SUPPLEMENT

TENNESSEE FOLKLORE SOCIETY BULLETIN

Index to Volumes XV-XVIII (1949-1952)

Prepared by

Melba Marion

Van Vleet, Mississippi

The index to Volumes XV-XVIII of the Tennessee Folklore Society Bulletin follows as nearly as possible the form established in the index to Volumes I-XIV which was published in September, 1949 (Volume XV, Number 3). It is, therefore, pertinent to quote the "Explanation" which prefaced the earlier index:

> This index is designed to include the names of all contributors of articles, all place names, and significant titles of poems, articles, stories and songs, giving volume, issue and page references for each entry.
> Book reviews have been listed under the subject Book Reviews. Here they will be found arranged alphabetically by the author of the book. Names of reviewers will be found alphabetically in the index.
>
> Versions of ballads have been listed under the subject Ballads, arranged alphabetically by the name of the ballad. Different versions have been indicated. Also under this subject will be found articles on the ballad, e.g. Religious folk songs.
>
> Articles on superstitions will be found under the subject Superstitions, arranged alphabetically .....
>
> Omitted from the index are references to individual superstitions, remedies, and sayings as they appeared in articles. Had this been done, the index would have assumed the proportions of a concordance, which was not the original intention.

It should be noted that reviews of phonograph records and tape recordings are listed under Book Reviews.
